

Kaplan Academic Advantage

An employee benefit from the proven leader in tutoring and test prep.

Employees agree that there is nothing more important than their child's education. Why, then, do 87% of teachers claim that parents are not doing enough to help with reading, math and homework? Parents also know that college has longstanding implications. So why do most children take college admissions exams without a sufficient amount of practice?

The answer? Career. Career limits the amount of time parents can spend, limits the amount of energy parents can devote and limits the amount of money parents can afford. The impact of education on a child's future is undeniable. So how can you ease this burden on your employees and their families?
